

Picture Quiz Introduction & Instructions

Making awareness of energy efficiency fun also makes it more memorable. Try this activity with groups, it's a multiple choice quiz so everyone can join in and if you can have a small prize available, even better!

1. Give all participants a copy of the picture quiz paper (10 questions with multiple choice answers).
2. Go through the questions one at a time getting the participants to answer and then score.
3. Go through the answers encouraging feedback and general discussion from participants.
4. If there is a tie-break situation, ask the tie breaker question - nearest answer wins the prize
5. Conclude the session by explaining that adopting the combination of these simple tasks can save as much as £455 but remember, just doing half of them can still save money.
